

Star 1 – Double Panel Procedure

1. There will be no cones on the ice.
2. Groups 1 & 2 come out and their names are announced. They are instructed to warm up at either the near or far ends of the ice. That will be posted: Even groups near, odd groups far etc. They will be given about three minutes to warm up. Panels will operate from the player's benches.
3. Panel 1 will judge the stroking exercise for Group 1 at centre ice. While they are doing that, Panel 2 will judge the jumps for Group 2 in their "warm up" area.
4. Once the stroking/jumps is complete they will switch. Group 2 will do stroking, while Group 1 will do jumps.
5. After those first two elements are completed, each group will have $\frac{1}{2}$ the ice to complete the rest of the elements until the creative exercise.
6. Both groups will skate the creative at the same time.
- 7. The next groups will not come on to warm up until the first two are finished.
8. There will be no announcing of names/elements during the event, as it is too confusing.
